Proclamation By the Governor.

KENTUCKY LEGISLATURE TO BE CONVENED.

By virtue of the authority vested in me, by the Thirtieth section of the Third Article of the Constitution of Kentucky to convene the General Assembly on extraordinary occasions, at the seat of government, I, Beriah Magoffin, Governor of said Commonwealth, do hereby call upon the members of the General Assembly, to convene at the capital, in Frankfort, on the 15th of January next, to take into consideration the interest of the Commonwealth, as the same may be involved or connected with the present disturbed condition of our common country.

In testimony whereof I have caused my seal, and affixed thereto, at Frankfort, the 27th day of October, A.D. 1860.

B. MAGOFFIN,

Gov. of Kentucky.

W. M. WILKINS,

Secretary of State.

The Committee of the Senate, it is thought, and with good reason, will accomplish nothing. They have adopted, as a rule, to report only what a majority of the Republicans and their opponents will agree to. The first proposition of Mr. Crittenden, to divide the territory, was rejected by three Republicans voting against it, and, also, three of their opponents—Davis, Hunter and Tammie. The last named were willing to vote for it, if offered by the Republicans in good faith. The other propositions were rejected by the four Republicans voting against them. These Republicans voted—no man could make better use of his time. The last question that remains is, did the four Republicans represent the majority of the free States? If so, and their decision is to stand, and no concession can be obtained, we may make up our minds to resolution, or secession, or whatever name we choose to call it.

We do not believe, however, that these men represent a majority of any free State. There may be two or three exceptions, but not more.

We have never expected much from Congress, and still less from the Administration. There is, we still hold, some enough in this country to rouse it, if that state can ever be brought to bear upon it. The demagogues, however, are in the way. This Republican party may imagine they can get along this way; but they will soon find their mistake. They must not mistake the position of Kentucky. She stands by the Union, because she expects the people of the free States to do justice, and take no advantage of us. To those who are in error with the committee, nothing can be more beneficial than these Bitter Remonstrants. The grounds are the same as those for their friends. Try and see, and you will find that the South is bound to the North.

The Carpet Liners, located on the west side of Fourth street, between Main and Market.

HUGH WILKINS.

The Carpet Liners put down here by us is the only one of the kind we have ever seen that we would care to have in our home. It is made of the finest material, and will be very comfortable to sit upon and will last for many years. The carpet is not, however, so strong as to stand the action of the most severe weather. Its worth more than it costs us to make it, and we have a good deal of confidence in its durability.

Arrangements are being made, it is said, to secure the election of James H. Moore, K. Moorhead, of Pittsburg, to the United States Senate.

The Hon. Thomas A. Hendricks, the Democratic candidate for Governor in the late contest in Indiana, is about to remove to Indianapolis to practice law.

David Stull, of Chicago, has commenced a suit for slander against Mr. Birch for personal damages in the sum of $100,000; another party claims $40,000. Mr. Birch will be compelled to pay one-half of the sum to each plaintiff.

The last question that remains is, did the four Republicans represent the majority of the free States? If so, and their decision is to stand, make up our minds to resolution, or secession,

Daily Democrat

PRINTED AND PUBLISHED BY HARNEY, HUGHES & CO.
Office—Eastgate Third Street, between Market and Jefferson.

Louisville, Ky.
FRIDAY MORNING.—DEC. 28, 1860.

The Daily Democrat to the Country.
Now that Congress is in session and every one within the facilities of a daily mail should take a daily paper, we beg leave to remind our readers and the public generally that the Daily Democrat, for the country, is supplied at five dollars per year or fifty cents per month, payable always in advance.

Those who would keep themselves posted on the current events of the time send forward their subscriptions at once.

DEMOCRATIC MEETING.
The Democrats of the Jeffersonian predicted a meeting of the people of this county, at that place, on Saturday, the 29th instant, to appeal delegates to the January Convention.

To CONGRESSMEN.—If we do not print a tenth part of the communications that are sent us—these we mean which relate to political affairs—not let those who favor us with their views think they are disinterestedly treated. The number of such letters is surprising, even to us who know so well the effect of all popular excitement, so far as they relate to the newspaper press. To read carefully all that we receive, is a task that we do not pretend to perform. We are thankful for all matters in the shape of news; but the chances are that he who sends us a political disquisition will be disappointed if he expects to see it printed, and the chances against him will be increased just proportionate as his ideas are adulterated with words.

CONVOCATION OF THE LEGISLATURE.
It will be seen, by reference to the first page, that Governor Magoffin has called upon the Legislature to convene at Frankfort on the 17th of January. There has been a growing feeling in favor of this measure for some time. We can only trust that the Legislature will do nothing that can detract from the dignified position of Kentucky, but all that will add to her fame as a great conservative State, proud of her position and history.

A NICE TRIO.—Officers Tiller and Castle last evening learned that a girl was locked up in a room, Market, between Floyd and Preston streets. They proceeded thither and knocked at the door. They heard persons within, but no answer was returned, so they burst open the door and found two men with a perfectly made woman. The men were called on to surrender, but one replied that he would first, whereupon Tiller pitched in and the man was fain to lodge in Castle's Thomas in a few minutes. The men were conveyed to jail, when they gave their names as Mc-Cord and Roberts. The officers returned to the room, the woman was dressed and allowed to go her way.

It appears that the men are lumber men from Indiana, and resided the town for lodgings, and, early next morning, left the woman, a common street-walker, though rather young and prepossessing, in adduced to accompany them home. The trio got on a spree together, and the result is known. The men are said to be very decent men by reputation, but this affair does them no credit. The case will probably undergo investigation this morning.

St. John's Day.—Yesterday was St.
John's Day, the patron of the Masonic fraternity. Both the Evangelist and the Baptist are traditionally members of the craft, but the evidence by which these claims are supported is not very satisfactory to the uninitiated. St. John "survived" his brother, and, according to legend, died at the venerable age of one hundred years.
He was but thirty years of age at the date of commencing his ministry. Among the traditions of the Church is one that he only of all the disciples escaped martyrdom; and that escaping unburnt from a burning cauldron of oil, into which he was cast by command of the Emperor Domitian, he was sent a prisoner to the Island of Patmos in the Mediterranean Archipelago, where he wrote the "Book of Revelations."

THE ATLANTIC MONTHLY.—The January number of this Magazine is now ready. It opens with a well-written article on Washington, D. C., and, in its second part, on Midwives and Mortuary practices. Paul Revere's Horse is the title of a poem which has been used to distract and divide the honest masses, the workmen of the country have no real interest; and we can see no reason for a safe and quiet peace to be established among the various sections of the country, unless the government, founded as it was, by the wisdom and patriotism of our illustrious fathers.

That in the mere abstract questions which have been used to distract and divide the honest masses, the workmen of the country have no real interest; and we can
see no reason for a safe and quiet peace
to be established among the various
sections of the country, unless the
government, founded as it was, by the
wisdom and patriotism of our illustrious
fathers.

We understand that the negro who killed Mr. Fayer's slave, on Christmas night, was lodged in jail last evening.

M. P. Perry.—Of South Carolina, on the beacon to a seat on the floor of the Senate, he is a well written sketch of a visit to one of the coastal cities of the South. A lonely Home is a good story; Barbados and Gihilion, and who was Caspar Hauser will be read with interest; Pampea is an odd bit by Aldrich; The Professor's Story is confined; Recollections of Keatsiana; Conner Clarke, and in it does full justice to the poet; The European Crisis, A Visit to the Asylum for Aged and Demented Paupers, The Question of the Hour and Reviews and Literary Notices complete the number, which is the first of a new volume.

It was stated recently that John Dwyer, of Louisville, knocked a fellow in the head on the steamer Telegraph, and killed him, and Dwyer was committed to jail in New Orleans upon the charge.
We learn from the Picayune of Wednesday last that Dwyer was released for two good reasons: John Taylor, the "killed," appeared personally in court, and made oath that he was the personal friend of his victim.
He was proved to be a real, smiting with wrong, etc. He was never spanked!
